- You do not have to make an appointment to visit during office hours.
- You are welcome to schedule an appointment outside of office hours. This is best done via Email, my office phone does not have voice mail.
- I'm happy to meet with students online via Instant Messaging, arrange these times via Email.
- Office hours are cancelled the day following exams.

Expected Classroom Environment

Do not disturb or distract the instructor or your classmates.

1. Silence noise makers.
2. No hot food (hot drinks are OK).
3. Enter and exit the room discreetly during class time.

Participate.

1. If the classroom is  $\frac{1}{2}$  full or less, sit toward the front of class.
2. Be prepared to discuss the course text and programming assignments.

Course Website

<https://csci261.mines.edu/csci261/><sup>1</sup>

Familiarize yourself with the course website! The course website contains information about: grading policies, syllabus, assignments, course sections, graders, the final project and the C++ Collaboration Policy.

Bookmark this site! You will refer to it often.

Blackboard

<http://blackboard.mines.edu/>

Blackboard is used for assignment and project submissions. You may need to setup your login with the Mines' Blackboard server, and then be sure to join the appropriate CSCI 261 class section.

Course Announcements

When needed, I will send course announcements via Email. Be sure that your Official Coorespondance (Email) Address is setup correctly via Trailhead. See http://inside.mines.edu/~khellman/official\_corres.html. I do not use Blackboard for announcements! Note that new guidelines announced by the registrar during Spring '08 require your official coorespondance address to be your mines.edu Email address.
